BEDFORD HOUSE,

29th April 1929.

My dear Mirza Ismail,

Of late I have been to Tiruvannamalai [illegible] which Shrine I had long been a devotee and in which I had to perform a vow. The Trustee of the Shrine there is [illegible] an and a relation of mine. He told me about the [illegible] of an elephant for the Shrine which you have in the principal item of paraphernalia of the Temple and told me also that it was your State that was usually supplying the sacred animal to the place whenever a vacancy happened to fall. He tells that a young tusker (I mean a young male elephant) [illegible] be quite welcome. So, I wonder whether it would be possible for you to comply with my request which if I may say so in respect I may claim as a matter of moral obligation for which if complied with myself and hundreds of thousands of co-devotees who congregate every year at that great Shrine will feel highly grateful to your goodself or to the Jesse Raj.

Trusting this finds it good health,

Yours sincerely,
